

Why not experience Japanese Sado (Tea ceremony), Nihon buyo (traditional dance) in Kimono?

We offer a great opportunity to experience Japan's old traditional culture yourself - focusing on, Sado (Japanese tea ceremony) and Nihon buyo (traditional Japanese dance).

First, you can get dressed in a Kimono, Japanese traditional garment, from our wide selection. In a Sado, tea ceremony, we will demonstrate the basic routine, so you can get familiar with wagashi (Japanese sweets) and drinking matcha (powdered green tea).

In a Nihon buyo lesson, we will present its brief history and its background, our master will then demonstrate basic dance steps and movements, so you can try for yourself. There will also be a live performance by the master .

We provide several courses for you to choose from. We are sure you will enjoy our program, so please do not miss this great opportunity to experience Japanese culture first-hand during your stay in Kyoto.
